Grant Gillett, the Kansas cattle king, has gone to Peru. It is said that he carried at least $110,000 in money with him, and his wife's diamonds are worth at least $20,000 more.

Telegraphic messages have been sent thirty miles without wires. It is thought the process will soon be improved so that messages can be sent across the ocean without wire.

Mrs. Anna J. George is on trial for her life, at Canton, Ohio, for the killing of George D. Saxton, a brother of Mr. McKinley. The evidence shows that Saxton ought to have been killed.

The Monroe doctrine got a blow below the belt, when the United States began to shell Samoan villages, and took the part of an cannibal king against another cannibal king. A fight of this sort should not concern us.

A few days ago there was an increase in wages of the cotton mill operatives in Massachusetts. But don't get excited about McKinley property. The advance was not quite as much as the reduction which was made just a year ago.

At Beattie, Kansas, there was a ticket composed of women, and it was elected. The mayor, five members of the council, city clerk, are all women. The police judge and marshal are the only remnants of the ancient rule of tyrant men.

Carter Harrison, democrat, was re-elected mayor of Chicago, on Tuesday, by a plurality of 41,000. The republican candidate, Carter, was second and Algeid was third. It was thought that the vote for Algeid would defeat Harrison.

At Galesburg, Illinois, Mr. James Mansfield was nominated by republicans for school trustee. The democratic nominee was his wife. At the election Mrs. Mansfield beat her husband 64 votes, and her name on the ticket carried all the democrats through.

A bill is before the Missouri legislature to tax corporations on their capital stock. Already the bill is being denounced as unconstitutional, as class legislation, &c. Of course any bill that attempts to make the big fellows dig up their share of taxes is unconstitutional.

W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., a ten-millionaire, and Miss Virginia Fair, a six-millionaire, were married in New York, on Tuesday. By strict economy they may be able to get through the balance of the winter. They are both heirs to great fortunes when their parents die.

The lower house of Jefferson City has passed the 7 per cent. interest bill. It also makes the property mortgaged good for the note. A bill of this sort was introduced by the populists in the Kansas legislature in 1892, and a great howl was set up all over the country. The bill failed to pass, but it was a good measure, just the same.

There is a whiskey barrel famine in Kentucky, and some stills have been shut down because of a lack of barrels. A contract was made for 1,200,000 at $2 each, and second hand barrels are selling at $1.55. If our republican friends would save their barrels when they drink the whiskey out of them, it would relieve the famine. What would they do if there should be a whiskey famine?

The Warrenburg Standard says: "It is reported that the engraving clerk in the Missouri legislature has a mark on his face which makes his mark on the payroll, not being competent to write his own name." We do not believe this is the case; we do not believe the Standard ever heard such a report. But if it is, it is more than a mark on the payroll of the city of St. Louis did. The republican boss there drew the pay, signed the so-called "staff," and this is not only reported, but it is proven.

Ex-President Cleveland and ex-President Harrison.

Two of the deadest men on top of the sea, have written letters to the National Endowment Society, advising universal peace. If either of these defunct geese had done half his duty while holding the presidential chair, we would not have the present war on our hands. Spain needed a good thrashing, and the INTELLIGENCER has, for over twenty years persistently demanded that it be given to her; but if war was so dreadful why should we not have recognized Cuban belligerency, and let the Cubans and their patriotic friends fight their own battles? We held the Cubans down, while Spain used the machete. At last Spain grew so impatient toward us, on account of our servility, that she sunk the Maine. A yellow dog will fight if you crowd him too close, and we were the yellow dog in this case. War is an evil, but it is preferable to slavery, disgrace or dishonor. We hope to live to see the day when some power will do for Turkey what this country has done for Spain. War is a great civilizer, and is the only way to civilize such countries.

The republicans helped Tom Reed to pass a lot of tyrannical rules, and Tom has used those rules to help the republicans in all their partisan moves. He has also used them to make Tom Reed the big man of the republican party. He has been upheld and applauded by the republicans, and denounced by the democrats and the populists. As long as the republicans were getting the benefit of his partisan and autocratic rulings, they endorsed his actions. It was equivalent to a man receiving stolen goods and endorsing the act of the thief. But Tom has fallen out with McKinley, and threatens to use his unlawful power to scotch McKinley and Hanna in their annexation schemes. And now the republicans want to take some of Tom's power from him. It does make a lot of difference whose ox is gored.

There was an "anti-imperialist" meeting at Tremont Temple, New York, Tuesday night. McKinley's Philippine policy was jeered, and Aguinaldo and his manifestos cheered. Mr. Bowditch made a speech, and said, "Happily the brevity of the presidential term will give a chance before very long for the people to interrupt a policy they don't like." We have no use for Aguinaldo; we don't know what McKinley's "Philippine policy" is, but we know we have a fight on our hands, and we must whip those fellows till they acknowledge the supremacy of the United States. Then we hope a line of peaceful policy will be proclaimed and maintained.

The president of the Missouri Bar Association has appointed Judge Field, of this city, a member of a committee on jurisprudence and law reform. We suggest that the committee get together and make an exhaustive report, and that the bar then work to get the suggestions incorporated into law. We need reforms in the law. We believe nine jurors ought to be able to find a verdict, and we believe there are too many cases of perjury to get continuous acquittals, &c., &c.

Mayor McKisson, of Cleveland, Ohio, republican, and candidate for reelection, was defeated, and says: "The Hanna boaters and corporation influence, through lavish use of money, easily carried and defeated the head of the republican ticket yesterday." Ha! ha! You are getting a dose of your own medicine, and kick at having to take it. The man who beat McKisson says his election means that "the people are tired of pillage and black mail."

Dr. Northrop, pastor of the First Baptist church in Kansas City, says: "There is a hell, and he is glad of it; it is just the place for the false brother, the gay deceiver and traitorous neighbor." A whole lot of other crimes could be added to this list, and we would not exclude the man in Kansas City, who made his bull dog tear two women to pieces a few days ago.

Li Hung Chang was deposed from the Chinese cabinet because the empress did not want him. He was sent off to investigate the overflow of the Yellow River, as an excuse to get rid of him. He has investigated the overflow and has made his report. He finds that the overflow is caused by a superabundant rush of water.

It is the general opinion of western men that one dollar ought to pay for a pretty good feed. There are plenty of men in this country who have families to support, who have to support them on a dollar a day. They don't like to hear of plutocrats spending ten dollars for one feed for one man.

The Missouri legislature may not be able to pass any effective anti-trust laws at this session, but it is after the trusts with a sharp stick, and the trusts are taking refuge in the old bow, "unconstitutional." The people demand protection from the trusts and combines.

The Cuban general assembly has disbanded and voted to disband the Cuban army. This assembly did not get to handle the three million American dollars which McKinley took from American toil and sweat to pay the Cubans for fighting for their own freedom.

Gen. Miles says he can produce 25,000 witnesses who will swear to the truth of these charges. One witness will swear that they are not true would attract more attention.

In Cuba, when an editor has been sent to jail for libel, he hired some cheap dead-beat to serve in jail for him. The Americans have broken up this vicious amusement.

John Collins, the Kansas dude, who murdered his father to get money, so he could marry Miss Babcock, has at last reached the penitentiary.

It is said that a young woman died at Junction City, Ohio, a few days ago, of leprosy, and her two sisters have the disease.

The war department will experiment with wireless telegraphy.

Gen. Otis thinks that Aguinaldo will now adopt guerrilla warfare.

Clyde Mattox has not been caught, nor killed. The sheriff found him easy enough, but Clyde had a gun.

A few days ago the governor of Kansas appointed a republican to a little office, and he declined—the first case of its kind on record.

Mr. Carl M. Brocius has bought the Liberty Herald and took charge on the first day of April. It will sing the song of Bryan and 16 to 1.

The warden of the Missouri penitentiary is advertising for bids to supply the penitentiary with beef cattle. Our stock men might look into this matter.

The empress of China is talking about calling Li Hung Chang back into power. The European animals have had a taste of Chinese blood, and Li may not be able to beat them off.

Miss Emily Vanderbilt Sloan, niece of W. K. Vanderbilt, was married Wednesday, to Mr. John Henry Hammond, a poor young man, a lawyer, of Boston.

Some republicans are beginning to denounce the indiscriminate formation of trusts. The republican party fosters trusts. The tariff is for the exclusive benefit of trusts.

Admiral Cervera, who was the grand old man of Spain one year ago, is to be court-martialed for allowing Soley to sink his fleet. Spain seems to think that he ought to have taken his fleet out of Santiago overland.

The insurance trust has gotten a black eye. The Ferris bill has passed both houses of the Missouri legislature, and the governor will sign it. The Kansas City Times has made this fight alone, and deserves all the credit.

Old John Sherman is now well enough to sit up and read the obituary notices which his enemies printed about him while they thought he was dead. These same enemies are gnawing the file of disappointment because he did not die.

The powers are grabbing everything in sight in China, and that country, with four hundred million inhabitants, is powerless. We have no tears to shed over China, but we hate to see five or six big men kicking a helpless tottled pup.

Twenty-five girls, inmates of the Industrial Home, at Chillicothe, went on a riot, Wednesday. They fought the officers who attempted to take them back. They said they were tired of being bossed around, and made to go to bed at eight o'clock. They made things lively for a little while, but were soon captured and taken back.

The Carrollton Republican says the republican party is the party of the plutocrat. Well, it is the party of plutocrats; the party of trusts; the party of syndicates; the party of jobbers in army contracts; the party of Mark Hanna and Quay; the party that promised to give the country free silver, and has worked against it ever since. We cannot see where the poor man has any common interest in such a party.

House bill No. 48, introduced by Mr. Christy, having passed both houses, has been approved by Lieutenant and Acting Governor A. H. Bolte. It requires receivers of banks and trust companies to make semi-annual reports of the condition of the bank or trust company to the circuit court which appointed him, and before being discharged to deposit all books and papers of the institution of which he has been receiver. These shall be preserved by the clerk.

The solicitor general of the United States has begun an action against the trust known as the Chesapeake and Ohio Fuel Co., and fifteen other companies which went into a combine to raise the price of coal and destroy competition. We are glad to note that some of our republicans are beginning to see that combines and trusts are organized to destroy competition, to reduce cost of production and increase the price to the consumer. The laborer be blanked, is the unwritten law of combines.

At Cleveland, Ohio, Tom L. Johnson, the widely known street car magnate, in an interview, is quoted as saying: "The time is coming when the people will ride free upon the street cars, run and operated by a municipality, the same as they now get their letters delivered to them by the postal system. Municipal control is as easily had as governmental control. Politics would not be able to out any figure. In every separate organization where the servants of the company, government or municipality are subject to examination by public sentiment, where free access to the inner workings is made accessible, no corruption is found. It is only in the hidden byways that political chicanery can be possible."

Senator Vandiver's bill to prevent central committees from delegating their authority to make nominations to any person or number of persons, passed the senate without opposition. It is short and provides: The central committee of a political party shall consist of the largest body elected for the purpose of representing and acting for the party in the interim between conventions of the party; that for the purpose of making nominations to all vacancies on a ticket previously announced, a majority of all the members of a central committee shall be necessary to take action; that a central committee shall not have the power to delegate its authority to make nominations to any person or number of persons, and that any act consequent upon such delegation of authority shall be held to be null and void; that no central committee shall have the power to substitute, to fill any vacancy, the name of any person who is not known to be of the same political belief and party as the person for whom he is substituted.

Miss Estle's Piano Recital.

Monday evening, April 3d, at the opera house, Miss Estle Grace Estle gave a piano recital, in compliance with the new rule of Central College, which requires candidates for graduation in the department of piano, to give a public recital of classic music from memory.

The weather was about as horrid as any we have had this winter. There was four inches of snow on the ground, and more falling, and the roads and streets were almost impassable. These obstacles kept many from attending. Nevertheless there was a pretty fair sized audience. Probably nine-tenths of those present had heard her play, and they expected a treat, and were not disappointed.

Miss Estle is a school girl—has not yet donned long dresses, and when we speak of her artistic work we would not have our readers imagine that we are comparing her to the average school girl. We rank her with professional pianists, and there are plenty of them who could not play on the same programme with this little school girl. She is a prodigy—and while ranking so well as a musician, she also ranks well in her other studies, and is a general favorite with teachers and pupils, and all who know her.

The following facilities programme was presented:

I. Sonata, Op. 2, No. 3.....Beethoven
a. Allegro con brio.
b. Adagio.
c. Allegro assai.

II. a. Romanza, F. Sharp Major.....Schumann
b. Nocturne, D. Flat, Op. 27, No. 2.....Chopin
c. Rondo Capriccioso, Op. 14.....Mendelssohn
d. Etude, Op. 10, No. 3.....Kalkbrenner

III. a. Prelude, G. Major.....Chopin
b. Nocturne, D. Flat, Op. 27, No. 2.....Chopin
c. Rondo Capriccioso, Op. 14.....Mendelssohn
d. Etude, Op. 10, No. 3.....Kalkbrenner

IV. Paraphrase de Concert—Rigoletto.....List

From the time she took her seat and touched the keys, she riveted the closest attention of the audience, and not a move was made in the room till she closed the sonata. This was a beautiful selection, full of melody and quick action, and Miss Estle was fully equal to the task. She is exceedingly rapid in her work. Her hands flew over the keys with the speed of thought, and a volume of music rolled in a steady stream from the instrument.

There is a story going the rounds of a country man who went to hear Bolshakoff, and as his seat overlooked with the key he jumped up and yelled: "Go it, Ruby!" The man wanted to show his appreciation, and knew of no other way. He had to do something to relieve his feelings. And this kind of feeling came into the minds of the audience as they listened to the entrancing strains as they flowed from the trembling fingers of the fair young performer.

Every piece brought forth enthusiastic applause, and in one instance the audience insisted on an encore, and actually forced her to come back and play again, though the programme was only half finished. At another time she was compelled to come back and bow her acknowledgments. Several large bouquets were sent up and presented to her.

The whole programme was given to a manner beyond criticism.

Central College will feel proud of its piano department, and not a few of its teachers, but all the teachers in the world could not make such a charming performer unless they had first-class natural talent upon which to work. Miss Estle, if she so desires, can win a wide reputation as a pianist. We hail the rising star!

April Showers

Wash away the filth and waste that have accumulated during winter.

In the manner Hood's Sarsaparilla expels the blood impurities that have been deposited during the season when there has been but little perspiration and perhaps constant confinement in impure and vitiated air. It is a boon to tired mothers, housekeepers, teachers and others who spend their time indoors.

It gives the blood richness and vitality, fitting it to nourish and strengthen the muscles, and all the great organs of the body. It cures all spring humors and banishes that tired feeling.

It is the best venous medicine on buy for all diseases caused by impure or impoverished blood. You should begin taking it today.

Special Services

There will be special services at the Christian church tomorrow night. Elder Fenstermacher will preach from the text, "Men and brethren, what shall we do?" or "The cry of the oppressed."

During the service the following hymns will be sung. The words were composed by Elder Fenstermacher, and were set to music by Mr. John E. Burdette. Be sure to clip this article from the paper and bring it to church with you. The music is entirely new, and is well worth learning:

COLUMBIA QUEEN.
Columbia, blest to me,
Land fairer none shall see,
Thy waters noble, great and free,
Thy song is grand and true,
Thy song is grand and true.

COLUMBIA, GREAT AMERICA.
Nations whose praise is sung
Of thy virtues, thy strength and grandeur,
Thy country's brave and stout,
A hardy, God-blessed band,
Thy country's brave and stout.

ALL THE WOMEN

Praise and Use Per-na for Their Peculiar Ills.

(An Illinois lady of prominence, Roxa Tyler, vice president of the Illinois Women's Alliance, in a letter dated January 28th, from Chicago
